SEMINAR SERIES – UNIT SEM007

The AIHM is very proud to offer another seminar that forms part of the Seminar Series (unit SEM007).

This seminar will be based on the Neuro Linguistic Programming (NLP) principle and will be conducted by trained professionals in this field.

It will carry 15 credit points (half the required credit points for completion of the Seminar Series unit) and be conducted over 2 Sundays. To complete the program both sessions must be attended:

Sunday 1st & 8th November 2009
10.00am – 5.00pm

If you have already enrolled in the Seminar Series unit SEM007 and paid the full unit fee there is no additional charge for this seminar and attendance will complete the 30 required number of credit points for the unit.

If you are not a student of the AIHM the fee to attend this 2 day seminar will be at a special rate of $275.00.

As you know the Seminar Series is a core unit for all the Advanced Diploma courses offered by the AIHM and is designed to enhance the student's personal skills and knowledge to help become a successful practitioner and person. I am personally convinced the power of the Neuro Linguistic Programming (NLP) as I have completed the course myself some years ago.

NLP has been described as "the study of excellence that enables you to be able to run your own mind. It unleashes the untapped potential to empower people to become all that they can become". Through this course you can facilitate excellence in not only yourself; but also future clients and others close to you and enable them to discover the wonder and magic of taking charge of their lives.

Since the places in this workshop are limited I strongly urge you to register your attendance and where necessary enrol in the Seminar Series unit as soon as possible to ensure your place.

All places must be allocated on a "first come first served basis" and registration must be done prior to 1ST October 2009

Regards and Love
Dr S Jayawardana

The AIHM reserves the right to cancel or postpone this seminar if there are insufficient participants
